

Terms of Use
Last Updated: January 2026

By accessing or using this website, you agree to the following Terms of Use.

1. No Legal Advice

The content on this website is provided for general informational purposes only and does not constitute legal advice. You should not act or refrain from acting based on information from this website without seeking professional legal counsel.

2. No Attorney-Client Relationship

Use of this website, including submission of information through contact or intake forms, does not create an attorney-client relationship. An attorney-client relationship is formed only through a written agreement signed by both the firm and the client. Communications submitted through this website may not be treated as confidential and may be reviewed solely for conflict-checking or evaluation purposes.

3. No Guarantee of Results

Past results or descriptions of matters handled do not guarantee or predict similar outcomes in future matters.

4. Intellectual Property

All content on this website, including text, graphics, logos, and design elements, is the property of the firm and may not be copied, reproduced, distributed, or used without prior written consent.

5. Limitation of Liability

This website is provided on an “as is” basis. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the firm disclaims all liability for any damages arising out of or related to the use of, or inability to use, this website.

6. Third-Party Links

This website may contain links to third-party websites. The firm is not responsible for the content, accuracy, or privacy practices of those websites.

7. Governing Law

These Terms of Use are governed by the laws of the State of California, without regard to conflict-of-law principles.

8. Changes to These Terms

These Terms of Use may be updated from time to time. Continued use of the website constitutes acceptance of any updated terms.
